ABOUT MICHELLE

Michelle Olivia Smith, an inspirational speaker, author, and certified Christian life coach, is CEO of Delightful Infusion LLC. As a faith-filled, accomplished, forward-thinking business leader with an MBA and 30 years of career growth and achievement, Michelle brings a massive amount of valuable experience to the audiences and clients she serves.

Desiring to empower Christian women and organizations to achieve excellence, Michelle has delivered live and virtual keynotes and training to many businesses, associations, churches and women's organizations. In her career Michelle has advised organizations on improving workplace culture and achieving international management certification. Michelle found organizational development work very rewarding, but her true passion is teaching the Word of God. Certified by the Professional Christian Coaching and Counseling Academy, Michelle finds her joy in speaking at women's conferences, retreats and churches and coaching in various women's ministry settings.

Michelle Olivia Smith is an engaging and inspiring speaker who helps Christian women find their purpose, reach their goals, and walk in victory! Experience a delightful infusion of encouragement, knowledge, and motivation. Call Michelle today to discover the key to positive change!

Michelle believes that the key to resilience is knowing how to handle change and transition with skill. "From Transition to Transformation" is Michelle's signature keynote where she shares how to take control of life's difficult transitions and transform them into positive change. Also offered as an audio coaching program, "From Transition to Transformation" will empower the hearer to rise above difficulties that come from career, personal, or organizational change. Book Michelle now to bring this delightful infusion to your group or organization!

Michelle credits her faith in God for her accomplishments. She believes that the key to positive change for organizations and individuals lies in optimizing faith, and that applying Biblical principles to leadership, decision making, and goal setting ensures success, causing failures to become steppingstones to the next victory.

FROM TRANSITION TO TRANSFORMATION

Take control of transitions by preparing, processing, and pivoting for positive change! One of life's constants is change. While change brings about growth and maturity, that growth often comes outside of your comfort level. In this dynamic, empowering presentation, Michelle Smith inspires you to take control of your transitions and move them to positive and fulfilling transformation.

Whether you are a high performing professional, or a high performing wife or mother, or a dedicated church worker, or all of the above, you have had your share of transition in life. Michelle's engaging and encouraging teaching will address the two ways transition comes into your life, and the three steps to bring about your desired transformation. Michelle will teach you the five things people experience when transition is unexpected, and help you gain the faith, knowledge, and tools you need to successfully navigate the winds of change.

Rave Reviews

I've heard my fair share of public speakers over the course of my professional career, but especially over the past year as we have navigated the virtual environment for work and ministry. Michelle Smith sticks out in my mind because of her unique ability to share a wealth of information in an engaging and impactful way. She not only knows how to captivate (and keep) the audience's attention, but her strong reputation and credible nature makes it easy to listen to the content being shared. Mrs. Smith knows what she's talking about, she shows up prepared, and her delivery is always on point!

Michelle Smith is a powerful and gifted speaker who can move and inspire any audience that is fortunate enough to hear her. I had the pleasure of hearing her speak at a women's conference in front of an audience of young, middle and senior-age adult women. She shared a message of perseverance and faith that connected with everyone. She is transparent, poignant and impactful.

Michelle was instrumental in helping me to develop focus and provide me with guiding principles to help establish my business. She provided numerous resources, time and counsel in helping to add shape and depth to my professional goals and aspirations that allowed me to tap into my gifts and abilities to help others. I would recommend Michelle as a business coach who will bring her expertise, spiritual guidance and professional counsel to help other entrepreneurs put their best foot forward. I am forever grateful to Michelle for the impact and instrumental role she has served in helping me to launch my business. I look forward to continuing to work with her as I navigate through this labyrinth of the world of entrepreneurship.
